

NIS Educate

Education on how to act and react

NIS can provide companies with a comprehensive training package that will enable them to comply with GDPR staff awareness obligations and help their staff learn and maintain essential skills in an engaging way using simple to deploy tools.

Ensuring staff are aware of their contribution to the cyber security solution is one of the key pillars of ensuring the company's cyber security strategy will be successful.

Our Educate package is delivered to our clients following consultation to determine the most effective and relevant solution and is tailored to meet their needs. For example, being aware that phishing attacks are not only experienced on computers means this service can cover many different spheres of operation.
